OUR CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS.

HASRY S. DURAND, the Scott nominee for Representative in the First Congressional District of this State, is worthy of the best efforts that the trends of Home Labor and Harbor Improvements can put forth to elect him. In point of natoral ability he is at least the equal of his comperitors. As a practical and successful business men he has no superior in the District. His prin ciples are identical with those professed by a mascrity of our People. His integrity is unques-tioned, his character unexceptionable. We fully believe that he would make a more efficient and anfluential Representative than either Mr. Ducker, or Mr. WELLS. We are confident that he can be elected if all who desire his success will unite their efforts and energies to secure it. Shall i

The friends of Mr. WELLS, on the one side, an of Mr. Dennas, on the other, affect to believe that there is no chance for Mr. DURAND and therefore urge his friends to abandon their candidate and vote for the nominee of the "regular," or "Free Soil" democracy. We entreat them to listen to no such syren songs. There are but the customary tricks of desperate politicians. If the sup-PERSON OF WINTERED SCOTT All vote for DERAND for Congress, he will bent both "Free Soil" and togue "Democracy" badly. If every friend of a Protective Tariff in this District, bearing in mind the ritel importance of this question, will prove takes ground against it: faith by his works and vote for HEXRY Dunand, the Tariff Candidate, his success is cer-

FRIENDS OF HOME LABORI Will you not bearin mind the fact that the only candidate for Congress in the field, who is pledged to maintain your interests, and who is, in principle, a strong advocate of a Protective Tariff, is Hanny S. "The British Candidate."

The Sentind calls Gen. Pierco the, British candidate. It quotes the favorable expression of some of the British presses to prove this, in order to excite the prejudices of Irishmen.—It so happen, however, that such papers as the London Resputch, from which it quotes in favor of Pierce, are and have been for the last half-century the Republican leaders in all the great reform movements of the age.—Mornion Area.

It is very true that the Despatch is for "British Free Trade' and equinal AMERICAN MANUFACtones, and therefore goes in for Mr. Pinace, and declares that "EVERY Exclisionar, of almost every class, rejoices in the expectation of success for the Democratic, Free Trade Party." But the Despeach is by no means alone in its preference for Picece. The Landon Times, the great Tory organ of England, proclaims that FRANKLIN PIERCH AND A valuable PRACTICAL ALLY to the commercial policy of England," and Blackwood's Magazine, the old and able exponent of Scottish conservation, declares that

WORK THE CAMPAIGN LOOKS WELL!

Advices from reliable and well-informed source at the East warrant the confident expectation that all three of the great States, New York, Pennstruant and Onto, will you to Tuesday next for WINTIELD Scorr. The tenor of private letters correspond in this particular with the tone of the whig press. In cach of these States the Scorr men are putting forth all their energies and are strong in the faith that they will wix the FIELD.

We hear good reports, too, from different quarters in this State. The friends of Scorr & Gaauam, Harbor Improvements and Home Industry, are up and at nork. We will not claim that Wisconsin is certain for Scorr, but we verily believe that proper efforts will make it so next Tuesday. votes, more or less, may turn the scale READER! Let not your vote or exertions be wanting to carry Wisconsin for WINFIELD SCOTT!

Boware of Francis!

Watch well the strategems and falsehoods of the Whige just on the eve of the election. Be of the look out for all sorts of Whige handbills, lying campaign papers from Washington, pamphies, and falsehoods intended to entrap and deceive the democracy. Beware of them. Wisconsin is fairly innudated with them, firsh from the Washington whig mint. They are circulated scirelly. Be on your guard, friends.—Morring News.

The above is a fair specimen of the sort of emptyings" which the News is running this rock. It is a genuine cry of "stop thief" by the ffender himself. The News and the rest of the Loca Foco papers are full of just such charges as the above-utterly and absolutely false. We defy nem to produce a single pamphlet or handbill of the kind described in the above article. No sucling can be done ! for no such thing exists, The very same paper, from which we take the bove extracts, keeps standing the following sass reef on Gen'l Scott :

in his instructions to his recruiting officers 1847; General Scott said : 1997; General Scott Said:

"You are instructed NOT TO ENLIST FOR-EIGNERS, for the Battallion of St. Patrick has laught as that FOREIGNERS CANNOT BE

This is a rengent—absurd upon its very face n most wanton, shakeful facsenood, and the News knows it. Yet that paper keeps it standing with the purpose of deceiving, our foreign-born citizens into hostility to General Scott. We believe that the result will show that those citizens are not to be deceived, and that they will indignantly rebuke the demagogues who attempt to gull them with such transparent frauds.

More Scoundrellsm Just as we go to press, we learn by letter from a reliable source, that German documents are in circulation in the interior of this State, among German Catholics, stating that Winfield Scott is a Gatholic, AND CONTAINING SUOTE'S NATIVE AMERICAN LETTER OVER FRANK PIERCE'S SIGNATURE! We have in doubt that this base fraud and forgery proceeds from the Whig managers in this city.—Mitwakee News, Oct. 18.

We find this atrocious fabrication, denounced and branded as such when it first apseared in the News, going the round of the Pience Press in this State. We have again and again ballenged the News to produce this surreplitions German Document," or to give the name of a single responsible man who had ever seen, or heard of it. But the News is dumb. It knows the charge to be attorly fulse, yet refuses to retmet it. If it he "scoundrelism" to circulate such a document, how much porse then "scoundrelism! is it to invent and publish so base a lie against political opponents. Let the News answer!

The Banking Law.

The banking system, in any manner shape or form, is one of which we do not approve; and we can view it in no other light than a source of corruption and fraud upon the whole community. We are aware also, that a great portion of the velocity in Western Wisconsin are opposed to this bill in whole, and that they will rully on the day of election, and lend a helping hand to suppress such a magnificent plan for swindling.

Let the friends of the Banking system be on heir guard, and see that a full vote is cust in favor of the Law. Its adoption is of very great importance to our State, and the larger the majority its favor the better the effect at home and abroad.

The Sentinel denies that Whigs in this ity are going for Wells. We can only answer han, that it will deny the plainest truths.—Free Permoret.

The Free Democrat intentionally misrepresen us. We never denied that "Whigs in this city are going for Wells." No doubt there are individual whigs in this city and out of it, who will vote for Walls, as there are democrats who will rote for Durkee and free soilers who will vote for Durind. But the Sentinel did and does deny that my whig who "looks to Mr. Tweedy, or ourseles for counsel" will vote for WELLS. That was the Free Democrat's charge, and that we emphotically deny. Our counsel to every Whig and wery Scorr man, in and out of this city, within the Pirst Congressional District, is, has been, and will be, to vote for HENRY S. DeBAND. And if that counsel is followed Durand will be Elected!

Conventions To-Day.

The Scorr County Convention meets at noon -day, in the Court House, to select candidates for County Offices. The Senatorial Conventionr the Fifth District meets at the same place at 2 o'clock this afternoon to nominate a candidate or the State Senate. We carnestly invoke the Delegates to both Conventions to by aside all local considerations or personal preferences, and look solely to the end in view—the selection of honest competent and trustworthy men for the severaly offices to be filled. Give us an unexceptionable ticket for State Senate and County Officers and it is bound to min.

THE TARIFF QUESTION.—We trust that none of our readers will fail to read the excellent communication from Dr. James Jourson, in this morning's Sentinel, on the subject of the Tariff. The Dector is one of our most respected citizens and loves the country of his adoption as warmly as he does that of his birth. His Trish fellow-countrymen will all bear witness to the truth of what the Doctor says about the effects of " British Free Trade" upon the Manufactures and Labor of Ireland. Can any one of them, with such facts staring him in the face, support the British Pres Trade party, or your for the British Candidate for President? Will they not, one and all, as they remember the miseries of Ireland and cherish the welfare of America, vote for Scott, Graham and DURAND, and PROTECTION TO HOME IX-DUSTRY "

THE TARIFF QUESTION. To the Editors of the Sentinel-

Sms:--It is the privilege and right of every iree man, forming a portion of this great confederney, to express his opinion upon political as well as other subjects; but connected with those privileges and rights, there are duties. Every good sitizen is morally bound, when he undertakes to make statements in public, or travel through the till election day, to the advacacy of the good cause country in the capacity of a public teacher, in and be at the same time politically dishone-i, or They have friends, neighbors and customers whom their coursel and example cannot full to influence, have a complete disregard for truth, provided it better answers his purpose.

I am led to these reflections from having heard the remarks of Mr. LADUE, and Col. McREYNOLDS of Detroit, upon a late occasion in this city. It is scarcely necessary to allude to the speech of Mr. Lance, Ex-Mayor of Detroit, were it not that one portion of it shows so well the character, capacity, and intelligence of Mr. Lance blesself, and also the estimate he placed upon the intellisence of his audience, that it is too good to be withheld from the world.

Mr. Ladue's great argument against a protectve Tariff was the "barbarous and inhuman deciration," (to use his own language.) contained in the fifth plank of the whig platform, promulgated, think, in 1846. That plank of the platform vent for "protection to American Labor," and said that the American "Artizan could not compete with the houseless, clothesless, poorly paid, and starved population of England, and therefore should and ought to be protected." To ne, sir, that fifth plank appeared a truly American declaration, one which every men bern upon this soil, or who has made America the home of his choice, should glory in adopting.

Mr. Ladue thought differently, and addressed his audience in opposition to that noble American declaration somewhat as follows:—" Fellow citizens, you have heard the heartless, inhuman, and brutal declaration of the whigs in the fifth plank of their platform. You have heard their sneers and scoffs at the poor of Europe, because they are houseless, naked, poor and starved; and, fellow citizens, if it should please the great Ruler of Nations to again visit this earth with a second Deluge, and that I were forced to fly for safety from mound to mound, from hill to hill, from mountain to mountain, and that I had reached the topmost peak of the highest mountain of the earth with the gothering waters reaching to my mouth, and that all hope of safety were at an end, and that accursed, heartless, inhuman and brutal fifth plank of the whig platform, affording protection to American Labor, should flow by within my grasp, and that my safety consisted in securing it, so help me God, I would not stretch out this arm to grasp it." At the termination of this outburst of eloquence and Anti-American declaration, these was a momentary stilness followed by the most uproarious noise. The humbug was too transparent to take whole nation at that time-drawing a support from the manufacture of that one article.

The then reigning Monarch of England, William III, was petitioned by his English Subjects to suppress the Manufacture of Woollens by the Irish, in order that they might have that trade exclusively to themselves. An act was passed i accordance with such petition, prohibiting the export of Wool and Woollen fabrics from Ireland, nder the following penalties: Confiscation of all the goods-loss of the ship they were found in and a line of Fire Hundred Pounds. Dean Swift, alluding to this period, speaks of the trade of reland as glorious and flourishing—but see the result: -40,000 Irish families, amounting to near one-fifth of the whole population of Ireland, were driven out of the Country, and settled is

France and Spain. The Irish petitioned and remonstrated again he injustice of the act, and wished for free trade ot, mind you, the free trade of Col. McReyson. but the same freedom to sell, and export, that vas granted to his Majesty's English Subjects; n other words, to be protected, not robbed at heir trade. Manufacturing languished, and nearly died out in Ireland in the subsequent 86 years and is it any wonder ?- (see Mooney's History of Ircland, page 817.)

In 1782, the Irish Parliament declared its independence of Great Britain, that is, its right to Legislate for itself. Almost the first act of that rish Parliament was to appoint a committee to enquire into the condition of the manufactures and trade of Ireland, and to ascertain what might on necessary for their improvement. Was not his first act of a free Irish Parliament protection to Irish Industry? See the result of that enquiry: In 1783, one year after the Independence of the Irish Parliament, there was given by that Parliament, One Million Two Hondred Thousand Dollars, in premiums, bounties, and other aids to Irish manufactures. The revenue of Ireland that year was not five million dollars, and yet more than one-fourth of the whole amount was spent in premiums, bounties, and aids to Irish Manuactures. Would not Col. McRarvolus call this protection? If he pleases to call it free trade, I am satisfied; we won't quarrel about words; only son, on motion, Jonas Conkey, Esq. was appointlet us have this same kind of free unde principle operate in this land of our adoption. In 1795, 16 years after the trade of Ireland was protected by an Independent Irish Parliament, there were 8.000 persons engaged in the Woollen Manufacture alone, representing some 40,000 persons drawing a support from this source; and in the city of Dublin, alone, there were 15,000 Sale Weavers at work. Was not this protection to Irish Industry? (See pages 885. 6 and 7 of the same work.) In 1800 the Irish lost their parliament, a their trade ceased. In 1841, Dr. Kane published a report on the resources of freland.—At that time the population was 8,173,966, and there were engaged in all Ireland in the Manufacture of Broadcloths and fine Woollens-Just 200. (Compare that with 42,000 jamilies in 1696, when the population was only one million and one quarter.) no quarter.)

The English manufactured goods brought important the sea of the first of the fi ment of Irish manufactures. He went so far as to wear himself, and induce all the repealers to vent Frieze coats, and not wear any cloth manufactured out of Ireland. Were the Irish to commence again manufacturing to any great extent the wealthy English Capitalist in the same busiiess would undersell the Irishman at his own loor; he would sell at less than cost, until he compelled the man with moderate means to abandon the business altogether.

Do we not find precisely the same state lings exist to a great extent in this country ?-But a few years ago, there were 140 furnaces in all blast in Pennsylvania; at present, if reports be true, there are 120 of that number closed up, and only 20 in operation. Let us be fairly understood. Between us and our Free Soil friends there is no dispute as to the character of slavery as it exists in the United States. The only difference between us is, how shall it be dealt with.

They say, if we understood them aright, that they will hold no further political remnantism with slaveholders—in other words, they will not recovered.

We answer, that this is fantamount to a dismemberment of the confidency; because it is impossible to continue in union with people with whom we refuse political communion.

They withdraw from the two great parties of the country, because those parties are as they allege, implicated in the sin of slavery. To this, our ceply is, that the parts must necessarily partake of taccharacter of the whole; as the entire nation is unhappily involved in the guilt of slavery, by that clause of the Constitution which enjoins the delivery of ingitives, the parties of the nation must of necessity partake, more or less, of the same principle which would dismember the Whigparty for this cause, would alwagate the Constitution, and dissolve the Union.
